

Blackfoot Mayor Named Kiwanis Governor-Elect

E. A. LINDQUIST
Gets New Job

BLACKFOOT—Blackfoot Mayor E. A. Lindquist has been elected governor-elect of the Utah-Idaho District of Kiwanis International. Lindquist was named to the post at the 41st annual convention of the district in Salt Lake City. He will assume his new office Jan. 1 of next year.

Selected new lieutenant governor of district three was Rudy Wahlquist of Shelley. He succeeds John Clawson of Alameda.

Lindquist will meet with national officials of the Kiwanis International in Chicago in November. Details of the Blackfoot mayor's job will be discussed at that time.

Idaho-Utah has about 3,300 members of Kiwanis International. Lindquist is no stranger to the operation of the two-state area, having served on several committees operating in the two states.

Defectors

Mass.) said recently that the pair—who were bachelors and close friends, had taken with them valuable cryptographic information concerning secret codes.

The top secret agency with which they worked was a defense unit engaged in intercepting radio signals and in communications intelligence.

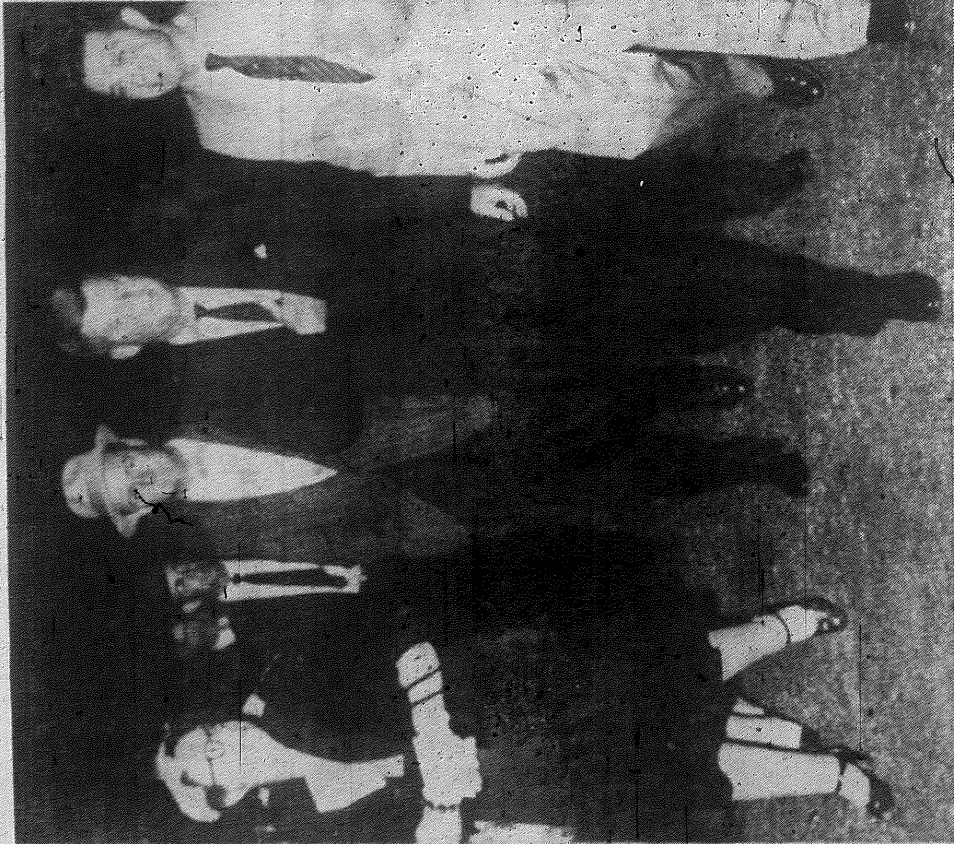

They said the United States had planted a code-clerk spy in the Turkish Embassy (presumably in Washington) and was deciphering secret messages of more than 40 countries at a cost of half a billion dollars a year.

They said Britain and Canada cooperated in the program and were closely involved.

Martin, a heavy-set blond, appeared pale but confident. The bespectacled Mitchell was somewhat nervous. Both read their statements rapidly but sometimes stumbled over a word or sentence.

Their sharpest tussle with American reporters came when one asked them where they were living now and what they were doing.

"Why do you wish to know?" replied Martin to the applause of Soviet journalists. They declined to reveal their place of residence and said that if anyone, especially relatives or friends, wanted to visit them, they wanted to visit them in Cuba.

EARLY RISER—It was a sleepy presidential candidate who stepped off a plane at 3:40 a.m. today for an appearance in Pocatello. Sen. John F. Kennedy still had the attention of an admirer and the local security force. Pocatello Police Detective A. T. Kutz, left, and State Police Lt. Al Negro. Kennedy was driven to Hotel Bannock by Sheriff H. E. Parker, Republican candidate for reelection.

Russ Trawler Smuggled Pair

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Russian trawler is reported to have smuggled two defecting American code clerks to the Soviet Union after picking them up secretly in a Cuban port.

This was disclosed today as the White House, Pentagon and State Department met with a somewhat embarrassed official silence the news Moscow had unveiled the pair at a news conference with a flood of spy accusations.

Responsible authorities, who reported how Bernon F. Mitchell and William H. Martin got to Russia, said government agencies knew about the voyage shortly after the trawler left Cuba.

what is going on at that station, but the nation should also be concerned about what is not being done at the station.

The candidate's remarks on the Rules committee, of which Budget is rated one of the conservative members, was the second time during the short visit that the senator struck out at that powerful committee. He mentioned it at an early morning press conference.

He said federal aid would have been important to Idaho, because the state needs more money for educating its children. He said passage of the federal housing bill would have aided the Idaho lumber industry.

Indians Dance

Kennedy commented that "Now, when I watch television, I'll root for our side," and then stood by while members of the tribe performed a tribal dance. He stayed long enough to congratulate each dancer.

He was overwhelmed by the crowd as he reached the stage-side door of the auditorium, where progress toward his car was almost halted by a flood of high school students and adults, wanting to shake his hand as he crossed the short stretch of lawn.

He moved slowly toward the car to the music of the high school band. Once he reached the car, headed east on Clark Street, progress was

Congo

Ididace in a showdown fight for power with President Joseph Kasavubu.

Lumumba acted after a rush of events in which Kasavubu went on the air in a dramatic move Monday night and announced the fiery premier's ouster. The latter countered by taking over the network and announcing he had fired Kasavubu as chief of state.

Charming they have the support of the Congolese army, Lumumba's supporters issued the call to both houses after an all-night Cabinet session.

Lumumba was plainly determined to keep his job despite Kasavubu's charge that under the premier's leadership the Congo was plunging into fratricidal strife and sliding toward the Soviet bloc.

As dawn broke over the tense capital, it appeared that Lumumba was still in authority. Kasavubu's house was surrounded by U.N. Ghana troops manning light machine guns.

Jason Sane, secretary of state, who took part in the all-night Cabinet session said, "We are going before the parliament. We are sure we will get a majority. The army is also behind Lumumba."

(Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld studied reports of the twin grabs for power at his U.N. headquarters in New York. But he held off comment.

(There was no indication how soon another Congo emergency session of the Security Council might be called. "The situation in Leopoldville is just too fluid for us to say anything at this time," a spokesman for the secretary general said.)

Kasavubu made his bold move in mid-evening. He broadcast an announcement that the erratic premier had been fired and said he was trying to stop the Congo's slide into chaos.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market drifted off in sluggish trading late this afternoon. Volume for the day was estimated at 2 1/2 million shares compared with 2,800,000 on Friday. Key stocks declined from fraction to about a point.

The market was lower from the start. After a burst of activity at opening, turnover slackened. The market lacked stimulation from business news as trading ended the significant post-Labor day period. Steels, autos, rails, chemicals, drugs, tobacco, electronics and electrical equipments displayed minus signs. Precious metals were mixed. Defense aircrafts were down. Douglas Aircraft was a fractional gain.

Comptometer and Teletograph were being halted in trading most of last week because of accumulation of orders, were traded normally once again. Teletograph was down more than a fraction and Comptometer a fraction.

Narrow gains were held by government bonds while corporate bonds continued to show irregular pattern.
